Calma is an independent outdoor furniture brand founded in 2009. Where we're from, calma (meaning "calm" in Spanish and Catalan) is a way of life. We believe in responsible design, producing timeless objects meant to be enjoyed with calma.

Empordà born and bred.
We live the outdoors with calma.

Sun, sea, the rocky coastline and the northerly tramuntana winds. The Empordà surrounds us. Inspired by its natural beauty, local craftsmanship and the character of its people. The objects we produce reflect the love for our land.

Know-how. Craftsmanship. Calma.

We entrust local manufacturers to produce our products. Craftspeople who understand making and tradition more than anyone else. Masters of craft who make their mark on and embed their knowledge into every single one of our products.

Trends are stressful.
Timelessness brings calma.

We reject throwaway design and object to fads and trends. We believe in responsible design, producing outdoor furniture that is incomparable, original and stands the test of time. Our responsibility is to create products that are uniquely Calma, reviving much-loved masterpieces and curating new collections by leading designers that inspire us.

The soul of Calma.

Calma is led by a team of multidisciplinary professionals passionate about design and united in their dedication to simplicity, comfort and beauty.

Chairs & table

An outdoor chair shaped by comfort, durability and a serene elegance, echoing the clean lines of Mediterranean design. Offered with a backrest in Iroko wood, in harmony with the structure, or in water-repellent Agora fabrics that bring a softer, more relaxed character.

The table pairs a solid Iroko frame with a tabletop crafted from the traditional ceramics of La Bisbal, evoking the sobriety and strength of the Costa Brava landscape.

Lou

Relaxed soft-forniture collection

Lou is the result of the first collaboration between the studio of Inma Bermúdez and Calma. The collection comprises three pieces: a pouf, a lounge chair and a sofa. We like to call them “soft” furniture. The seat cushion is made from various layers of viscoelastic, making it remarkably comfortable. When removed during the winter months, Lou still retains a sculptural appearance due to its delicately light wire frame.

Normal

Normal lamps seek the essential form through simplified geometry and materials. Their classic and basic aesthetic contrasts with the unusual, rustic, yet sophisticated material. A collection made entirely in the Empordà using glazed ceramics from La Bisbal. The collection consists of four models: one wireless lamp, two ceiling lamps, and a wall sconce, allowing for consistent illumination across multiple spaces. Suitable for indoor and covered outdoor use.

Coqueta

A woven wicker armchair

Calma has rescued one of Spain's great design classics for its new collection. Bestowed with a Gold Delta Award in 1988, the country's most coveted design award, the Coqueta chair by Pete Sans is both a carefully balanced and a radical piece of design. A milestone in the history of Spanish design, a basket-weave seat is suspended from its seamless stainless steel structure, all of which is held together with its most identifiable detail: a buckled belt which spans the length of the chair.

Om

DOWNLOADS ↓

Inspired by classic Mediterranean canopies, Om refines a well-known outdoor essential through an adaptable opening system that offers multiple shade positions. Crafted in anodised aluminium for the mast and ribs, with machined aluminium rings and stainless-steel fittings, the design ensures precision and durability.
Available in two fabric configurations—individual panels or a single continuous cover—and offered as well in a wood version, Om brings a measured, contemporary character to any outdoor setting.

Alat wood

A sofa of titanic proportions.

Monumental and Monolithic. “Alat” which means “winged” in Catalan, takes basic geometric cues from Brutalism, giving it a heavy appearance and a sense of robustness that contrasts with the visual lightness of its lateral wings.

Alat fuses the sofa with the archetypal lounger, making it useful as both, while defining itself as something totally reimagined.
