

For 2018 the mirrors will be an interesting trend in interior design!

Small mirrors with frame come back to be present in the interior decorations as a must. That has been proven since the Isaloni International show in Milan and will keep at Maison & Objet in Paris.

These arise in places where they once occupied by walls or canvas, now give rise to mirrors of smaller dimensions with multi frames. Especially with rounded or fully round corners inspire professionals in simple but elegant decorations. With charm, once placed they become the center of interest of any space. The brands that use noble materials on the frames will be very successful. The interior designers are challenged, by the public, to look for new solutions and premium materials. The people want, increasingly, more and more different styles and designs in way to have a premium and personal piece.

A mirror can magnify a space, has the power of “illuminate” it, and may give an intimate or opposite character, but it can, above all, define our space, reflecting exactly who we are, representing what we have in our soul.

Being 2017-2018 a year of innovation and sophistication, daring takes place and found in the mirror the ideal piece for striking and sophisticated interiors.

*Porto, 2017, October 27th
Helena Costa, Founder and Interior Designer at Alma de Luce.*

1 - Naperon mirror

2 - Darvaza mirror

- 1- Naperon Mirror: is a piece made with lacquered wood with more than 6.000 Swarovski crystals. Check out every details on <http://almadeluce.com/collections/tradition/naperon-espelho/>
- 2- Darvaza Mirror: made in lacquered metal and walnut solid wood. Check out every details on <http://almadeluce.com/pt/collections/place/pt-darvaza-2/>