Jungle book

Close your eyes, and feel the warm summer breeze on your face. Think of all of nature's exuberant colours, the countless shades of green, about the safari trip through the glorious jungle. Imagine sitting in the shadow of a palm tree with a refreshing long drink.

That's summer 2018. At &k. And you can have that feeling in your home already. For this season too, we travelled all over the world to gather inspiration for the new &k collection. We also travelled back in time to the 80s when the Memphis style was hot, but we've translated it to suit the now. Soft pastel prints adorn asymmetrical vases and cheerful cushions.

For a trip to the jungle, we asked Bodil Jane to work with us, the successful Dutch illustrator with a quirky style. Her exotic tigers, elegant plants and playful scenes find their way onto bamboo plates, mugs and cushions.

Previously, the cactus played the leading role in our collection – this season, that role is reserved for the flowers we encountered on the catwalks in all their blooming glory. The Dutch design agency WA000 has developed contrasting floral prints especially for &k's summer line.

During our journey around the world, &k dropped by friendly retailers and Vitra, the famous design museum. Lifestyle blogger Jules Villbrandt reveals where she gets her inspiration from.

Have fun with our brand new, sparkling collection!

Jungle Jane

1. Drawn botanicals

We got lost in the jungle during our travels, but that was no disaster at all! The overwhelming green and the sounds of the tropical animals are still echoing through our minds. To keep hold of that image, illustrator Bodil Jane has designed trendy tropical prints for &k. Bodil Jane's picturesque flora and fauna really bring the jungle into your home. Lifelike imitation plants and a leopard money box complete the look. This quirky style suits &k down to the ground.

2. Painted Graphics

Revival of the striking 1980s Memphis style, but translated by our &k designers to suit summer 2018. The result: a colourful procession of warm summer products such as cushions and vases with our own prints in lively, crazy shapes and pastel shades. This makes us so happy! Symmetry? Matching colours? Not this summer!

3. Bold Flowers

After the success of the cactus as style icon, the flowers now get their turn. We've seen that flowers are doing blooming business on the catwalks, so now it's time for interiors. That's why we've asked Dutch design agency WAOOO to create a daring and contrasting floral print for a cheerful line of summer items in and around the home. Brighten up your balcony or picnic with our bamboo plates, cheerful tall drinking glasses and complementary tea lights in bold colours.

Shop inspiration around the world

Everyone who's seen anything of the world knows that the Dutch like to travel. And so do Dutch products. Our ÷k designs have now found homes in over sixty countries, where they've been taken into the hearts and 'homes' of hundreds of shop owners. We're proud to introduce six of these new homes to you.

Written by: Santje Kramer

Photography: a big thank you to all contributing shops

Jessica Bataille is a well-known interior designer with shops in Jávea, Spain. As the child of a Lebanese mother and a Dutch father, she spent part of her youth dividing her time between the Spanish coast and the much cooler Netherlands. You can see this in her collection. Bataille: "My company's style is a blend of authentic Mediterranean combined with a modern Dutch feel and aesthetic that has a direct connection to the environment and individual spaces.

We develop interior design projects at our Atelier located in Calle Bruselas, and we also have a showroom with furniture, details and construction materials. Our Sea Shop is our Flag Store which reflects my lifestyle concept. All details are related to aesthetics, music, art and creativity, and the combination of all of them creates a perfect atmosphere."

Bataille loves handmade design, so she collaborates with local artists to produce authentic, functional designs for the modern world. We at ěk are not really local, but luckily for us, she still sells our products, such as the yellow toucan money box. "It's our favourite, we just love it!"

Jessica Bataille is inspired by the aroma of the Mediterranean, the colour of a bougainvillea, the smiles of her children, a glass of wine shared with friends and encountering new cultures while travelling around the world. Her local tips? "Enjoy our fortunate weather, get lost along one of our hidden creeks, go sailing, or go trekking up Montgó Mountain. Walk around the Port Area – where our Sea Shop is located – eat some fresh fish and enjoy a drink while watching a colourful sunset."

X BANK is located across from the prestigious W Amsterdam Hotel in the heart of the city centre, and is a true shopping El Dorado where fashion, art and design are gathered together in a 700m² space. This inspiring and exciting shop offers space for influential, promising and established labels, designers and artists, mainly from Dutch soil.

X Bank: "We fulfil the modern customer's demand for innovative design, unique executions and local support. Our space continuously transforms its products, merchandising and programming in order to nurture the local creative community."

We're proud that &k's products are available for purchase here. Which is their favourite? X BANK: "Our favourite &k items are the Set Plates Imperfect Gold."

Finally, X BANK is also more than happy to share tips about the city: "Get inspired in one of our many museums, like the Rijksmuseum, and while you're there, stop by RIJKS for an amazing lunch experience. If you don't mind the queue, you can get the best cookies at van Stapele. The best Asian dinner is definitely at Izakaya – try the crispy rice with tuna tartar."

Frau Hansen is a lovely, light concept store in the wonderful German city of Hamburg. Here, you can find different kinds of homely built-in spaces, such as a living room, a kitchen, a bathroom and a home office, all filled with various cheerful items. They also have a small children's room and a huge 'wardrobe'. Nicole Hansen: "I only order what I like and from time to time I change the look of my shop ...depending on my own actual taste. I love to mix all my products and I love to arrange beautiful colour themes."

Nicole Hansen gets her inspiration from Pinterest, Instagram and fairs like ShowUp in Amsterdam or Maison et Objet in Paris. We are curious about her favourite item from the $&k$ collection. Nicole:

"I love the plates and cups of the Pearl series, and the golden candle which let the monkeys dance."

Apart from her own shop, she recommends many other beautiful small shops in Eimsbüttel, the famous Hamburg district. "Visit the Elbphilharmonie, the beautiful concert hall. And don't forget to stroll along the harbour and the small cafés on our beautiful city beach along the Elbe." Nicole Hansen likes to spend her own quality time with friends, sharing delicious food and a lot of good wine. "My last gift to the girls (my gang) was a pin of a glass of red wine."

The Beast is the name of a chain of high-end lifestyle shops, aimed at upper- and middle-class Chinese. You can find flowers, home decor, fragrances, jewellery, gifts and much, much more. It all started with flowers, which is still a very important product for The Beast. The Beast works together with labels like Gucci, Valentino and Marc Jacobs. We are therefore proud that Sabrina Hu chose items from the ěk collection. What is your favourite ěk item? Sabrina Hu: "Tabletop and home decor are our two favourites, such as the Anouk fish plates or the Jungle coasters."

Ěk travels to China to get inspired, but how does Sabrina get inspired?

Sabrina Hu: "We travel around the world and find the products that match our store concept: Free spirited and audacious, the Beast is an original trademark for which aesthetics and details are central. We deliver exceptional quality in both product experience and consumer exploration on our platforms."

Different and edgy

Dims Studio in Aarhus is a colourful and quirky home decor and lifestyle store for everyone looking for something unique, that you won't find in every other store. It's always a pleasure to look around at the original home decor, organic skincare, delicacies, vintage items and fresh flowers. Anne & Kim: "We like to find brands and items that are new to our area and that are different and edgy. We try to discover things that will make a big difference in your home, the things that will stand out and give a boost to the rest of your interior. We carefully select every item, with the common feature being that whimsical twist."

Dims Studio is also a retailer for Æk products. What is your favourite Æk item?

"It's very difficult to say, because we have so many favourites. For a long time it was the banana bowl and now it is the monkey jug and the brass palm tree candlesticks. The monkey jug is a bit spooky because you need to scalp him before you can pour liquid into him, but that's also why we love him."

According to Anne, the best gift to give – apart from the monkey – is the organic skincare from Raz Spa with ingredients handpicked in Danish nature. "The Repair Balm is the best product ever."

Dims Studio cherishes their customers. "We have so many sweet and creative customers who have great ideas and tips for things to look for, and they plant their ideas in my head and then I dream about them at night. They inspire me, and without them there wouldn't be a Dims Studio."

After a visit to Dims Studio, Anne advises going to the Moesgaard Museum. "It's great and very interactive for everyone. Eat ice cream at Mammis (they have the best salty caramel ice cream), have dinner at Komfur and dance the night away at Head Quarters."

Rialto Living is a big lifestyle shop located in a fantastic palace renovated by its owners. You can spend hours here, because they have everything from fashion, interiors and books to a café and an art gallery. Rialto Living is a wealth of design experience and exquisite taste with an eye for the unusual. The building itself is enchanting and spacious. All items are handpicked by the only two buyers, Barbara and Klas, and reflect their own personal style. Since they've also handpicked several ěk items, we would like to know their favourite. There are two really nice gifts: the porcelain acorn box and the palm tree bottle opener.

Mallorca is so dazzling, and inspiration can be found everywhere! What inspires Barbara?
 "The best thing for me to get inspired is to go out in nature. We have some beautiful hikes here in Mallorca – going hiking empties my head and leaves space for new creativity."
Would you like to share some tips about your city with us? "There are lots of good restaurants here now, for example 'Fera' and 'Canela'. Walk around in the old town, visit the small shops, go and see some exhibitions in the museums and of course a visit to the beach is a must."

Jane's Jungle

I don't like perfect things

When you think of Jungle, you think of Tarzan. When you think of Tarzan, you think of Jane. And if you say Jane, we say Bodil Jane, Amsterdam illustrator. Thanks to the Jungle summer trend, Bodil Jane fits in perfectly at &k. She has developed the design for a series of &k bamboo plates, mugs and bowls, cases and cushions.

The importance of colours

Colours are very important in my work. I'm always looking for new and exciting colour combinations. I love full illustrations with a lot of different objects and patterns. My illustrations are playful, colourful and feminine. All of my illustrations include handmade elements and digital techniques. I think they have a very handmade feel, because I use a lot of textures and elements painted in watercolours. I like illustration styles that are non-digital or appear to be, and that are a little clumsy and charming. I don't like perfect things in general.

Instagram: fun or burden

A social media platform such as Instagram both distracts me from my work and enhances my creativity. I get very motivated by likes and followers. Instagram is such a good platform for showing your work. I get a lot of jobs through it and that makes me happy. The downside is that it takes a lot of time and sometimes distracts me from working. Also, the more followers you have, the more people start to copy you.

Artistic family

I was raised in a very creative family with a lot of creative people around us. My parents are both freelance artists – my dad is an animation and sketch artist for businesses while my mum is more of a decorative illustrator and paints ceramics. They both had a studio space at home. Growing up, I was always making things. When we went on vacation I always brought scrapbooks, journals and drawing books with me. I have one sister. She also went to art school and is now a graphics and print designer for fashion.

Collaboration with Æk Amsterdam

I felt enormously honoured to have been chosen by Æk to develop a small collection. I feel that Æk designs are fresh, colourful and playful, and I fit in well with them. And there's also room for a wink, just as there always is with me! My style is cheerful and airy. I generally work 'flat', so it always gives me a kick to see my illustrations on a 3D object that can also be used. That's why I also try to make as many products as possible or collaborate with brands that do that. And it's even nicer to work with Æk, who are based in my own city. I could just drop into the office to see the samples. That also made it feel like a true collaboration.

Views on Vitra Museum

“Design is the appropriate combination of materials in order to solve a problem.”

We fully subscribe to this statement made by famous designer and architect Charles Eames. He and his wife Ray Eames are among the most important designers of the 20th century. Their furniture, films, books, exhibitions and media installations have inspired generations of designers. Reason enough for leading German design museum Vitra to put on a complete retrospective exhibition for the legendary design couple.

The spectacularly designed Vitra Museum and &k also have a special bond: we sell each other's products in our shops. In other words, we're one museological handshake removed from Charles and Ray Eames, and we feel that's an absolute honour.

The exhibition is located in the main building of the Vitra Design Museum, and is a complete overview of the work and life of the couple. The retrospective includes a large collection of original works – films, photography, furniture, drawings, sculptures, paintings, textiles, graphic design, models and props – and illustrates the spiritual relationship and interplay between the characters of Charles and Ray Eames, which formed the foundation for the creative works of probably the most successful design duo in history. We are certain that everyone will recognise their well-known designs, and may even have them in their own homes. The exhibition covers a total of more than 500 objects.

In short, it's more than worth the effort of travelling to the German Weil am Rhein. Even if only to see the building, designed by the renowned architect Frank Gehry. Make sure to visit the Vitra Design Museum shop, which offers a wide selection of design objects and publications, including products from the Vitra Design Museum, selected Vitra products and offerings by other design manufacturers like &klevering.

How would you describe your style?

My style is a mixture of various trends and influences. I like it when a home tells a story. I collect many things such as art, photographs, vases from the flea market, and objects from all over the world. I'm trying hard to live a minimalistic lifestyle, but I'm always failing! Nowadays, I concentrate on iconic design pieces. Even one iconic design furniture item is perfect for recreating your interior.

How does your style match the Ëk amsterdam collection?

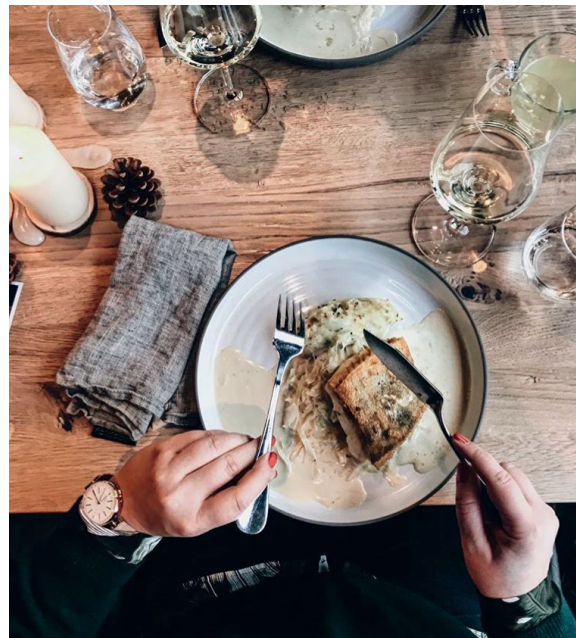

The Ëk amsterdam collection offers plenty of lovely objects to make your home colourful and vivid. Many items perfectly suit an urban jungle-inspired interior.

What/who inspires you?

I love magazines like Ideat or nytt rom. I also enjoy exploring inspiring accounts on Instagram, but they are becoming rare. In the last two years I've shot many home stories and I'm always amazed by how people live. If you look at the way artists like Matisse lived in the past, it's totally inspiring!

What is your favourite place to go?

Since becoming a full-time blogger, photographer and content producer I've realised how important your own home is. I've been based in Berlin for over ten years and couldn't imagine living somewhere else! This year we opened our own studio called Maison Palmé, my second home. Berlin is full of lovely places. In my hood I recommend the delicious pancakes at Feiner Hubert or a fancy dinner in an old Berlin double-decker bus at Café Pfortner.

Who are your followers?

My followers on the blog are mostly from Germany, Austria and Switzerland, but there are also people from all over Europe and the USA who keep in contact. My Instagram followers are from all over the world.

How do you keep inspiring them?

The most important thing is to inspire yourself. If I like what I've created, then I can inspire other people. Platforms like Instagram have become a bit boring because all of the accounts globally look so similar. So I always try to tell stories by carefully composing my pictures.

What is your vision for upcoming trends?

Plants will survive in our homes (why did they ever disappear?). I am also a big fan of vividly coloured walls. People should leave the mainstream path and experiment more with colourful furniture and pieces of wooden material. I've also observed that traditional brands and their classic design pieces are coming back into our homes.

What is the best home accessory?

To be honest: I have a crush on chairs! But I also love my coffee table from Vitra.

What is your favourite gift to give?

Fresh flowers. A bunch of well-chosen flowers is always the best gift!
