

LITOKOL INNOVATES ON ALL FRONTS AT MAISON & OBJET 2018

A synonym of high quality in the sealant market, thanks to Spaziocontinuo Litokol now caters to those who prefer continuous solutions, introducing a new line of products for surface treatments.

Rubiera, 19.01.2018 – From the 19th to the 23rd January, Litokol, together with other Italian companies will exhibit at the Maison & Objet 2018 exhibition under the banner of the Ceramics of Italy initiative, in partnership with ICE. Litokol is an Italian company specialised in the production of adhesives, mortars and materials for construction and interior decoration. This year Litokol presents a collection of decorative resins called Spaziocontinuo.

Thanks to the notoriety of the Starlike[®] epoxy mortar, Litokol is recognised worldwide as a synonym of highly technological and innovative products and is the only company of its kind able to offer solutions for all types of materials and grout.

For those who prefer continuous resin solutions as opposed to joints, Litokol proposes Spaziocontinuo, the complete resin system offering a broad range of possibilities for wall and floor coverings in homes, offices and shops. The main advantages of continuous flooring for the end user include: minimum thickness (only 2 mm) allowing application directly above existing coverings and thus avoiding radical and costly renovation works, reduced maintenance and easier cleaning thanks to the elimination of joints. The resin is water-repellent, ideal for heated floors and allows infinite possibilities for personalisation thanks to more than 2000 NCS[®] and RAL colours. Advantages also for installers, who will enjoy very fast application cycles and ease of use.

Spaziocontinuo proposes two lines for floors (which can also be applied to walls), SpazioCemento and SpazioResina, and two lines specifically for walls, SpazioChiaroscuro and SpazioMetallo, freeing the imagination of all limitations and making room for endless creativity.

At the Litokol training centre in Rubiera (RE), training courses continue for resin appliers from all over the world. Following increasing interest in Spaziocontinuo by retailers and installers, starting in January 2018 a higher number of courses will be offered on a weekly basis to meet the high level of demand.
