

The Spring Arty Wooden Works of Gallery Chuan

Gallery Chuan has launched out the 2019 S/S new collection with the artist, David Liao, to let the arty wooden works adorn your space.

The artist, David Liao, is fond to use the scrap of wooden material to create the works. The new collection, “Spring”, inspired by the mountain full of blossom, the artist combines light pink and coral red adorning with shining gold color and gold leaf. The color also corresponds to the PANTONE color of the year 2019, Living Coral. This collection express the joyful inspirit of spring.

In addition to the “Spring” Collection, in the “Aggregate” collection, David has kept the surface of tree to make the conflict between rough and smoothy texture. While the “Overlook” collection symbolized the traveler taking a rest and looking over the world.

About David Liao (1959 - )

Over 30 years in the art field, Liao is familiar with communication of art culture between Eastern and Western country and space aesthetics. This inspired him to create photography and even sculptures recently. Liao's creation is deeply influent by the realism sculptor Constantin Brâncuși (1887-1957) and Taiwan modern art grandmaster Chen Ting Shih(1913-2002). He is fond to use the scrap of wooden material and other found objects, and then combines with architecture elements to show the aesthetic feeling of space construction.
