

I create decorative objects, original pieces such as trays and decorative panels. I develop and create motives and textures on furniture such as bookcases, cupboard doors, wooden screens, mirrors, console tables ...my pieces are a combination of my artistic inspiration together with technical research and I like to share my taste for the exploration of textures and transparency and colors.

In my quest for new textures I use most often acrylic and artiste crayon: by combining and covering layers with each other, I obtain rich and warm effects. Then with chemicals, new textures appear: Oxidation, cracks, bumps...I also use thin sheets of copper and aluminium that I engrave finely or oxidize thus giving my work a finesse that is revealed by natural light.

All the woodwork is hand crafted by myself.

This creative process gives me e great freedom to select themes, shapes and sizes. All of these works illustrate my approach, through which my artistic inspiration acts in harmony with my technical research. All my creations are protected by several layers of polyurethane varnish.

Each creation is unique.
