INVESTING IN A PIECE OF DESIGN HISTORY

The vintage trend is going strong: Customers want to buy things that have value and tell a story at the same time. Lifestyle start-up FELINE VINTAGE gives the online market for pre-loved designer pieces a new format and is therefore a real insider tip for all vintage fans, design lovers and treasure hunters! The curated offer inspires people, to invest in vintage design classics instead of buying 0815 mass-produced items, and to constantly reinvent their own style and complement it with special pieces. Now design fans can sustainably indulge in their love of fashion and home accessories.

"In a world that is characterized by fast fashion and total access to all products, we often feel saturated and find that old or used items are even more exclusive than what can be bought new everywhere! Many of the items we offer in our shop are extremely rare and can only be purchased as individual items via the secondary market. We not only offer a selection of rare vintage products, but also true pieces of design history that we deliver directly to our customers' homes," says Felicia Kufferath-Kassner, founder and CEO of felinevintage.com.

FELINE VINTAGE is the leading Online Concept Store for Vintage Designer Pieces in Germany and offers a curated selection of home and fashion accessories that tell a story – from the stylish Mid-Centuries to the freaky 1980s & 90s.
