

Humdakin is starting is honored to be starting it's new French adventure!

Meet us at Maison & Objet in Paris the 6th -10th of September!

“The essence of Humdakin is my desire to create products with a sense of purity that are produced in a beautiful design while taking environmental considerations.”

- Camilla Schram,
owner of Humdakin

Humdakin is a new Danish cleaning brand located in Aarhus, that launched November 30, 2016 after five years of development. Humdakin creates cleaning and housekeeping products that combine allergy-friendly formulas, sustainable functionality and beautiful packaging.

The liquid cleaning products contain no harsh chemicals and preservatives or perfumes and have lovely mild scents, thanks to the natural extracts from Scandinavian ingredients. Along with cleaning products, Humdakin also produces textiles such as dish cloths, tea towels and kitchen towels - of course only in GOTS certified cotton. Finally, housekeeping tools such as brushes are also an important part of our brand. The tools are created with wood from sustainable sources, such as bamboo and mango trees.

One of our most popular products is our universal cleaner with sea buckthorn and salvia. All you need to do is add 1 teaspoon to our spray bottle and mix with water.

Humdakin has a mission to get everyone to love cleaning, especially sustainable cleaning. As part of reaching this mission, we currently have our products stocked in stores across 15 countries! This year us at Humdakin are looking forward to our first trade fair in France. We are honored to be a part of Maison & Objet the 6th-10th of September, and to see where this French adventure leads!
