

OEKO-TEX cotton and in-house production

At AU Maison, social responsibility does not ring hollow - we mean it!

We do our utmost to use responsibly sourced raw materials throughout our entire cotton range. Our team designs in Denmark, while our printing and coating takes place within the EU.

The goal of our production is to maintain the highest quality through the domestic manufacturing of our cotton and oil products. Thus, all our cotton and oilcloth fabrics are produced according to OEKO-TEX® 100 standards and do not contain any phthalates.

As far as production goes, quality and flexibility are our guiding principles. Therefore, we take great pride in having our own in-house production with experienced sewing ladies. Their eye for perfection ensures that all AU Maisons products follow lofty standards and are manufactured with great care and precision.

Our Danish production does not only guarantee quality products. It also benefits our customers with shorter lead-times, a large range of customized products and a deep knowledge as well as experience resulting in high quality in both raw materials as well as processing.

Visit us at F76-G75 Hall 4 to hear more about how we at work with OEKO-TEX cotton and social responsibility.

