

Lene Bjerre

autumn | winter 2019

One of the biggest trends and buzzwords right now is Luxury. But what "luxury" actually means to each of us is individual. To us - this Autumn | Winter - luxury is time. Time to be. Time to touch, to feel, to listen, to smell and to breathe. Time for family and dinner with friends.

This season we have worked with different materials, surfaces and textures to bring tactility into the collection. The colours are a gorgeous palette of soft neutrals and feminine metallics.

We have embraced nature and the beauty of small imperfections. An abundance of handmade items in curvy and organic shapes builds the new collection and invites you to enjoy the small things in life. Take time,

feel..

breathe..

enjoy!
