

Our story

TekTek started as a « beachwear » brand with beautiful and original silks and cotton designs for « summer » elegance. Tektek's third collection is evolving towards light and attractive « every-day-wear » with an eye on the travelling lady, but suitable for both city and beach. Light-weight clothes makes for lighter suitcases ! and enables TekTek clients to fit more into the same space. The use of new silk, viscose-silk and viscose-cotton combinations for the present and future collections also means less ironing on arrival at destination. Tek is now including a selection of craft bags and « sombreros » from Colombia and Ecuador to increase the Brand-appeal across the whole experience of the world as seen by TekTek's founders.

Our values

Promoting ethical values.
No compromise with quality.
Maintaining ancestral know how.
Valuing women's work.

Key Features

Our pieces are handcrafted and unique, hand-made by passionate women workers. Our prints are exclusive and our collection uses very high quality fabrics such as Rajasthan silk or cotton from the highlands of Ethiopia. Production is limited, and sold in selected shops and on our website. We offer a bold, feminine, delicate and relaxed lifestyle.

Sustainable objectives

Ambre and Pamela are very conscious of the environmental impact of the textile industry. In opting for digital print, TekTek can combine objectives of original designs (which cannot be found elsewhere) and low-impact dyeing techniques. In the new Collection, care has been taken to use materials that are more environmentally friendly, such as viscose and viscose-silk-cotton combinations.

About us

AMBRE INCH

Founder & designer

Ambre is an enthusiastic traveler who loves to discover new styles, ideas, textures and designs. « I have been so fortunate in my travels across the world to meet talented artists, great craftsmen, and visit the most beautiful places on the planet... In all these countries, there are women who perpetuate skills of their ancestors, and in Tek Tek I wanted to give a voice to their talents and express my own ideas of lifestyle and design. »

PAMELA COOPOOSAMY

Founder & designer

Pamela, businesswoman and designer living in the Seychelles. « I was dreaming of natural comfortable and above all unique clothes I couldn't find anywhere... Deeply attached to ethical values, my quest leads me naturally to India and Ethiopia to source the best silks and the best cottons. »