Yamama stationery was established 4 years ago in the Arakawa Ward in Tokyo. Some of our products took 4 years to be released from the first trial production, and finally they were launched in February of 2019.

We carefully select the materials to attentively produce special stationery that has never been seen before. For that, we consider three important things: “design” , “manufacturing” and “price” .

The designers can handle machines themselves for manufacturing or do a handmade process, what fuses the design and the production in a higher level, reducing costs and making easier for consumers to buy our products.

Yamama stationery doesn’ t aim for large mass production either unique pieces. We believe that new products can be created by simple manufacturing a better design while combining new and traditional technologies, at an appropriate and fair price. Some of our products may be manufactured with partners as factories and craftsmen, but our designers try to process as much as possible in their own workshops.

We will continue to bring our products further in the future, thank you very much.
