How are we different?

We are a family business striving to bring the modern linen classics to contemporary homes. Passionate about aesthetics, our main idea is to make things that are not only practical, but also beautiful. From Chile to Japan, we want linen to become an inseparable part of modern homes.

It all started with reimagining the fabric. We wanted to keep the Lithuanian linen traditions, but the grey rough linen hardly made contemporary life rituals inspiring. Our formula was to infuse more colours and softness. And it worked. To show that the new look made home more beautiful, we first opened our living room doors instead of a regular shop. Now we share the beauty internationally.

Bedding

Linen Bedding

The idea is pretty simple: we want you to sleep well. And linen fabric is really capable of managing your bed climate, so sleeping in soft linen bedding will provide you with comfort and a good rest all year round! Linen's hypoallergenic properties will provide a gentle touch to your skin, while the incredible durability of the fabric will allow you to enjoy your favorite bedding for many years.

Timeless to work in any bedroom, our luxurious linen bedding collection includes all the bedding basics: from duvet covers and classic or frilled pillowcases to fitted and flat sheets. A wide range of softer and brighter hues will allow you to create a perfect calming oasis in any interior.

Hemp Bedding

Our passion for linen is endless. But deep in our hearts, we are innovators, constantly looking for areas to experiment with and new ways to be sustainable and environmentally friendly. After taking time to search for new materials we would be excited to work with, we rediscovered something that was just as rooted in our cultural heritage as flax.

So we take a step beyond linen and introduce you to our new hemp fabric bedding collection. It includes all standard bedding pieces from duvet covers and pillowcases to flat and fitted sheets. The color palette is inspired by the nature of our land.

What is hemp fabric?

Hemp fabric is a durable and versatile fabric, made using stalks of the Cannabis Sativa plant. Grown for industrial purposes, this plant holds almost no amount of psychoactive components. Instead, it is a material used in many industries. Just like flax, hemp is used for textile production, rope making, food and food supplements, and much more.

Sustainability

We strongly believe in the importance of sustainability in everyday life and also in business. That is why we strive to stay responsible and mindful throughout all the steps of our work.

Linen fabric begins its life as a flax plant, and growing flax requires fewer resources like water or pesticides compared to widely used cotton. To continue this natural eco-friendly pattern, we put much effort to keep sustainability at the base of our manufacturing and delivery processes. The fabric cutting is planned in a way so that it produces as little leftovers as possible. We also prioritize working with partners in Lithuania or neighboring countries to avoid unnecessary CO<sub>2</sub> emissions, save time and other resources.

All linen we use for our products is OEKO-TEX certified, which guarantees that no harmful chemicals were used during the manufacturing of the fabric and it is safe to use in contact with the skin.

In 2021 Linen Tales also received a EUROPEAN FLAX® certificate which ensures that every step of the process - from flax sowing to sewing - meets high standards of quality and sustainability.

Packaging

BRINGING "JUST PACKAGING" TO AN EXPERIENCE

The materials we use in our products have always been 100% natural, so we followed the same path in redesigning our packaging. The tags are made of organic, recycled paper to add an extra touch to our wholesome philosophy. Every tag has a unique drawing made for each of our products - sheets, covers, tablecloths.

To reduce the usage of plastic, our items are no longer packed in complimentary individual bags. Instead, our B2B clients will receive their products in one large biodegradable bag per box to protect them from the elements during transit. Sustainability is written in our DNA, so this step just felt right. We're sticking to what's important to us, and we're telling our story on the same note with nature.

Our own production

Our process guarantees superior quality. We use only linen grown in Europe and all of our products are exclusively made in Lithuania. Our products are handmade and carefully produced in small quantities. To go an extra mile for our customers, we wash every linen piece before it is packaged. This process ensures that the fabric will not shrink during subsequent washes.

Fabric care guide

Linen fabric

HOW TO WASH LINEN FABRIC?

- Linen should be washed at 40°C / 100 °F. If some heavy-duty stains appear, you can increase the temperature up to 60 °C / 140 °F. However, high temperatures shouldn't be used too often as linen tends to shrink.
- Linen should be washed separately from other fabrics and colors.
- Hand-wash is best for thin linen fabrics, which could get damaged in the washing machine.
- Choose soft, neutral detergents for delicate fabrics. Avoid detergents with bleach (i.e. chlorine, peroxide).

HOW TO BLEACH LINEN FABRIC?

- You can only bleach white linen pieces. Do not bleach colored items.
- It is recommended to use oxygen-based bleaching agents.

HOW TO DRY LINEN FABRIC?

- Linen can be dried in a tumble dryer on a low temperature, hung, or left to dry flat on a white towel.
- If using a tumble dryer, take the linen out when it's still damp and complete drying by hanging it or laying flat.
- If possible, allow white linen pieces to dry out in the sun. It will help to maintain the fresh whiteness.

HOW TO IRON LINEN FABRIC?

- Iron linen while it's still slightly damp.
- Use medium or high temperatures and steam. If needed, you can also spray some water on the fabric.
- Iron on the reverse side.
- If you like the natural, slightly crinkled look of linen, you can skip the ironing.

Hemp fabric

- Hand wash or machine wash in 30-40 °C / 85-100 °F water.
- Line dry if you can or tumble dry on low if you must.
- Iron on low if you love the neat look but we encourage embracing the natural waves of hemp fabric.
- Use an oxygen-based bleach on white fabric only if you must.

Colour disclaimer

Please note that if you're purchasing the same colour items at different times there may be some colour differences. This happens because items may be manufactured from different dye lots and the shade may differ due to natural linen qualities.
