

Fabulous Island Press Release

Fabulous Island is today more than a brand but a philosophy of life. The philosophy of a family who decided to live differently, in Mauritius. We seek to improve the living conditions of our family and are very sensitive to the environment and well-being.

We are fans of vintage products. We seek to translate this spirit into our collections and also to integrate as quickly as possible the transformation of second-hand products to develop our lines.

We are aware of the environmental impact of global textile production and are particularly keen to develop clean and environmentally friendly products.
