Playful contrasts and unique, breathtaking blends

The Fendi Tower is an innovative project by the A++ International Architecture and Interior Design Firm in Panama. It has brought exceptional, unique Italian style to the new residential area at the Santa María Golf & Country Club, which is the most prestigious part of the city.

In the 66-storey building, the sophisticated elegance of furniture by the legendary brand Fendi is fused with the peerless, luxurious qualities of Margraf marble to create a highly exclusive atmosphere.

Prized fabrics and artisan details are at the heart of the interior design scheme, which has a lot in common with the world of fashion. Marble, glass and metal are among the materials that are alternated in playful contrasts and unique, breathtaking blends.

In centre stage is Emperador Brown Margraf marble, which is a magnificent dark brown colour verging on black in some areas, with veins in warm hazelnut, cream and greenish hues. It is one of the most modern, cutting-edge stone materials around and it is perfect for all sorts of uses, both indoors and outdoors.
