

Guille García-Hoz and Sol&luna: The fusion of Design and the Art of Leather

The Elephant “Maribel” and the Deer “Gerardo” Dressed in leather for Maison&Objet Show (17-21 enero 2020)

Paris, January 17th 2020.- The friendship and mutual admiration for the design and the Art of Leather, between Carolina Sánchez de Movellán and Guille García-Hoz, has resulted in the creation of two pieces of glazed ceramic covered in leather by the artisans of Sol&luna.

Sol&Luna is internationally renowned for its art and ingenuity in covering virtually any object and surface with leather, and Guille García-hoz, decorator and ceramic designer, joins forces to demonstrate that, once again, unity is strength.

The objects chosen have been the Deer “Gerardo”, Guille's signature piece, and the Elephant “Maribel”. Both pieces have been produced in the Talavera Ceramic Centre, whose designation of origin has been declared Intangible Cultural Heritage of Humanity.

Maribel has been fitted with a beautiful leather strap and Gerardo a fascinating mask. Both pieces have been wrapped in natural leather and sewn by hand with the characteristic cross-stitch of Sol&luna.

Carolina Sánchez de Movellán points out that this collaboration is a good opportunity for Sol&Luna to once again demonstrate the enormous versatility that leather has to be associated with any material.

For Sol&Luna it has been very gratifying to apply their know-how to "dress" Guille's pieces in leather. "Sewing Gerardo's mask and Maribel's strap with all the care of our cross-stitch has been a beautiful job and the mixture of glazed ceramic and leather has been absolutely amazing, says Carolina Sánchez de Movellán.

For Guille, a lover of contemporary craftsmanship in any of its disciplines, "this collaboration has been a gift that makes it clear that the good work of craftsmanship should not be lost and with the right approach it fits perfectly into the current panorama".
