PRESS RELEASE

"Our bench Ninne is as functional as it is elegant. It's storage, shelving and a bench in one. We've loved seeing how people have used it in their homes not only for wood storage, but also for books, textiles and more. We are delighted to now be able to offer an outdoor version too." says Louise Varre, CEO and Founder of Eldvarm.

NINNE BENCH OUTDOOR

We are thrilled to announce that our bench Ninne is now available for outdoor usage. The powder-coated steel has been galvanised with zinc so that it can withstand even the harshest of climates.

We first launched our storage bench Ninne a year ago. The bench was designed by award-winning Swedish designer Emma Olbers as a chic alternative to vertical firewood storage.

The result was an incredibly versatile piece of furniture, offering storage space as well as bench seating for up to two people.

Our first piece of furniture, the bench is named after Louise's grandmother Ninne who was a huge inspiration to her growing up.

DETAILS

Galvanised steel that is powder-coated. The details are in brass. The bench is available in four colours.
