Introduction:

T'RU is an initiative born in Switzerland to support the knitting and weaving skills of indigenous women in 60 ateliers in El Alto La Paz Bolivia. Through the sale of our products we provide them with sustainable work with a fair loan. The social and responsible side of T'RU as an Initiative for Bolivian people is to contribute these women and their families for a better living conditions.

Lentes al instante Bolivia is an initiative that looks for people of scarce resources who had never visited an Eye Doctor and need a measured pair of glasses to finally see better during their work, their education and daily activities, in this way enjoy their third age, motherhood, childhood.

Implementation:

In February 2019 it has been established the collaboration between T'RU and Lentes al Instante Bolivia; we will provide to every woman knitter or their children an optical attention and glasses with the measure they need and contribute to the betterment of their lives. The official first phase will take place in El Alto La Paz in April 2019 where the knitters together with the founder and coordination of T'RU will meet the team of Lentes al Instante and the first medical attentions and first glasses measurement will take place. This process will continue till the total of women working with T'RU will be real beneficiaries of this agreement.
