EVA SOLO TO GO SUPPORTS CAMPAIGN FOR PLASTIC-FREE OCEANS

In choosing one of the reusable To Go products from Eva Solo, you are automatically supporting the ReSea Project and its efforts to clean the oceans of plastic.

Eva Solo has been doing its bit to minimise single-use packaging since 2012 with its reusable water bottles and thermo cups. Now, Eva Solo is also engaging in the fight against plastic pollution littering the oceans through collaborating with the ReSea Project. Eva Solo has committed to financing the collection of 3.5 tonnes of plastic from the sea in 2021. So make the switch from using single-use plastic bottles and coffee cups to a reusable solution while helping to clean up the oceans at the same time.

The ReSea Project is a Danish organisation on a mission to clean up the oceans by removing plastics and recycling it, while raising awareness of proper waste disposal. The ReSea Project's solution contributes to the circular economy and is run by local communities in Indonesia. It is a social initiative involving the fishermen and local communities, and it has the advantage of creating jobs and improving the living conditions of the communities involved while at the same time contributing to plastic recycling so that less new plastic needs to be produced.
