Radici

HANDMADE

Radici is the new Valentina Porcelain's project with which the company, looking at the artisan tradition from which it was born and which has always permeated its spirit, intends to offer innovative, trendy, unconventional and high-class lines to pamper, even with the eyes, those who will go to taste the finely arranged foods in them.

The project was inaugurated with the creation of three lines inspired by the founding values of man and the world in which he lives, on whose importance and strength this climate of global pandemic has prompted us to reflect more: FAMILY, WORK, NATURE.

Anth lme Brillant Savarin, the brilliant French cook, argued that inviting someone to dinner means taking care of their happiness. A beautiful table is the first step in making guests happy. After arranging the tablecloth and centerpiece, the plates, cutlery, glasses, flowers and seating the guests, the part of the first woman is the object you are bringing to the table with the cooked food, already admiring the pan prepares the spirit in the best way to savor its contents.
