LES VENDANGES

The quintessence of French art de vivre

It's the quintessence of the French art de vivre.

A trip to the fabled vineyards of Saint-Émilion at harvest time.

The golden autumn light of the afternoon sun.

Dark grapes hanging heavy in the vine, ripe for the picking. Birds darting in to feast on the juice-gorged fruit. The utter luxury of sipping the fabulous Château Péby Faugères in the domain's cool cellars...

The complex aromas of the Grand Cru Classé Saint-Émilion served as an inspiration for Les Vendanges. Utter indulgence in an elegant deep black jar, decorated with a motif drawn from René Lalique's "Merles et raisins" (Blackbirds and Grapes, 1928), originally the décor of panels designed for the fabled Orient Express.

A rich red wine accord blending mouthwatering fruit – cherry, blueberry, blackcurrant – deepened with a rare natural extract of wine lees.
