NEW LUXURY COLLECTION

rare

Following the latest trends, the concept of luxury is changing!

Sophia Enjoy Thinking, imagines the new luxury of today in home with objects we love with a meaning and reason that give us an emotional effect and a different approach to value.

We are excited and proud with the result of our new product material, a material that we feel is an innovation in the decor field. After months of many trials, our hopes came true and RARE and INCOMPLETE Collections materialised all due to this new material, since we were looking for something strong but fragile at the same time. A new luxury!

It is based on our secret ceramine recipe of earthy and environmentally friendly ingredients. By adding firm stone powders and mixing it all up with some special colour dyes, we managed to give birth to a brand new material which is at the same time raw and elegant with a special sparkle, giving a distinguished & chic effect.

Sophia's new ceramine products, all carefully hand crafted by artisans, aim to become precious moments in any space with a stylishly, sustainable, storytelling heritage integrity always respecting the RARE rich sense of our history.

RARE COLLECTION - NEW CERAMINE

New ceramine, is a high quality mixture of earthy and eco-friendly, non- toxic materials gone through a painstaking procedure of working on a hard textured material, although flexible enough to allow the hand crafted process.

Due to the nature of the material and the dyeing process, colour variations may occur.

The colour palette consists of 6 colours: Raw Grey, Raw Pink, Raw Gold, Raw White, Raw Blue, Raw Creme.

INCOMPLETE

Collection

INCOMPLETE

Collection

Incomplete is a collection of intimate forms and shapes to Sophia followers, made of our new material, now completely transformed in elongated delicate figures, dignified, standing in their fragility.

Reconfiguring the classic archaic head to create a unique sculpture of the face which is central to the human expression as well as the human body.

The sculptures begin in curiosity as well as in play, frail, graceful and unique since they are made by hand, part of a narrative. Incomplete pieces of art left for one to dream about.

The collection comes in luxury gift box.

SHINE

Collection

As we always try to expand our Design vision to a multitude of styles, techniques and forms, we are happy to present the new eclectic Collection SHINE!

The mineral-rich coating used, is creating an opulent hue and depth in colour, adding a signature to each piece. Taking as compass the variety of personalities and personal styles, SHINE Collection offers an infusion of light and splendour, thus, statues will make any space grand but simultaneously contemporary and relevant.

Available in five colours.

CUSTOMIZE YOUR OWN STATUE

Driven by the success of our unique concept, 'Be the creator of your own collection', we felt we should continue to conceive new ideas to fit your needs for a custom made proposal.

Until today, you had the opportunity to create your own Collection by choosing more than 80 colours from the SOPHIA colour palette to make your own colour combinations.

So we thought, why stop there?

We are happy to introduce our innovative next step "Customize your own statue", where you are able to choose between three different statue bases.

Besides the core cube base, we created two new ones in different forms and styles, classic and modern.

Feel inspired to mix & match! Create your own statue by choosing the design, colour & base according to your personality and create something totally unique and individual. The final sculptural object is made just for you, chosen by you!

ETERNITY TODAY

Core Collection

ETERNITY TODAY

Core Collection

In 2014, the female artist and founder of the brand Sophia Enjoy Thinking, created her first collection "Eternity Today", having in mind the goal of producing beautiful, meaningful objects that were made to last.

Eternity today represents the aesthetics, spirit and essence of the brand, the timeless modernity, where the old is transformed into something new!

An ambitious plan and an exciting journey, empowered by the committed efforts to enrich each year the collection by adding new designs, colours and textures to become in effect Sophia's Core collection.

Currently, the Core collection offers over 250 sculptures, an amazing Colour Palette with more than 80 colours to choose from and finally the option to select between 3 different statue bases, bringing custom made to another level!

A permanent collection that is ever-evolving with new additions, updated colourways and thematic limited capsule collections, making it rich with striking variety of ideas, compositions, materials and forms.

THINK CHIC

A combination of natural, earthy colours blending delicate and elegant beauty with warm feelings to create a calm and grounding environment in any space.

Reconnect with the elements of nature through neutral colour schemes and elevate your personal style in your home and life.

FEEL HAPPY

An imaginative expression and combination of bold and joyful colours, successfully complimenting each other, managing to place a smile on your face and in your home, nourishing feelings of optimism and emotions of wellbeing.
