Sustainability

ur label, &k Amsterdam, produces stylish accessories and funky objects that boost any interior. We love contributing to inspiring living environments, and just as importantly, to a greener future. That's why our sustainability strategy is both ambitious and realistic. We are in the process of greening all aspects of our production process step by step, without compromising the quality and creativity of our products. Naturally, this process is informed by the insights gained from closely observing developments in the areas of production, materials and packaging. We also work closely with manufacturers and transporters who are equally committed to sustainability. After all, this is a goal we can only achieve together.

& materials

The lifespan of a material is an important consideration during the design process. We therefore aim to expand the percentage of more sustainable materials within each collection. For example, we have started developing items made from recycled glass, we use recycled metal in 80% of our metal products, and our ongoing series of placemats is made using environmentally friendly paper rope. The proportion of plastic products in our collection has been significantly reduced, instead we work a lot with polyresin, a sustainable composite raw material incorporating ingredients such as ground stone. Besides that our products are often made from just one or two materials, making them easier to recycle.

& packaging

There are significant gains to be made when it comes to packaging. We are currently exploring the available options, with the ultimate goal of becoming completely plastic-free. Fortunately, there are more than enough sustainable alternatives, such as cardboard, tissue paper or kraft paper. Because we want to ensure the safe transportation of our products and avoid breakages, a small portion of our items are still packaged in Styrofoam or bubble wrap. In this, we trust that our customers are capable of recycling the residual materials where necessary. When it comes to our gift boxes and outer boxes, we make every effort to use FSC® (Forest Stewardship Council) qualified materials for packaging. We also encourage manufacturers to use the most efficient packaging possible and consult closely with them to avoid the unnecessary use of plastic and cardboard.

& manufacturers

Our extensive network of manufacturers is principally located in China and India. We have worked with them in good faith for many years, and place great value on these long-term collaborations. We believe in the importance of having our products manufactured in accordance with the appropriate laws and regulations. For that reason, we consider it important for our existing and new manufacturers to possess the primary certificates.

FSC – The Forest Stewardship Council
Products and packaging carrying this label guarantee that the materials come from sustainably managed forests, animals and plants are protected, and that the people employed by the industry work under favourable social and economic conditions. We intend to use FSC qualified carton for all of our packaging in the near future.

Sedex/BSCI
Most of our manufacturers are affiliated with Sedex, an online platform that uses data to monitor our manufacturers' working conditions.

Fairtrade
&k Amsterdam is affiliated with FLOCERT, an independent certification organisation that guarantees the neutrality of the Fairtrade system. Fairtrade helps farmers and workers in developing countries to secure a better position in the supply chain, so that they can make a living from their work and invest in a sustainable future. For example, the cotton bags we designed especially for the Rijksmuseum carry the Fairtrade label.

& design

Sustainability goes very well with our colourful design. Nature, fashion and vintage classics are the inspiration for our statement products. Together with our young, aware and talented designers, we are shifting our focus from seasonal products to more durable evergreen products. During the design process, we bear in mind that our products will be loved for a long time. There is nothing more beautiful than items being passed from one generation to the next, along with the memories associated with them.

& goals

Step by step, we are expanding our greening efforts. We continue to critically examine our policies and production processes to determine what is going well, what can be improved upon, and which new developments are underway. In our view, transparency for our customers is an absolute must. We have established a number of goals upon which we want to focus in the coming period:

- By 2023-2024 we aim to have switched to FSC packaging entirely.
- By 2023-2024, we want to have reduced the use of plastic protection in our packaging by 85%.
- The expansion of sustainable products in our range is an ongoing process and our design team will continue to investigate the latest sustainable material developments and trends.
