

GARDEN BIRD-WATCHING UP CLOSE

Small birds like blue tits, chaffinches and robins bring life to your garden. Eva Solo is launching two new suet bird feeders. One to hang in a tree and one for window-mounting. Help the birds through the cold season by offering home-made suet cakes. Enjoy the chirping and vitality of a variety of little feathered friends visiting your garden or back yard for food and shelter.

Hanging suet bird feeder

The suet bird feeder takes three suet fat balls, and it is easy to see when it needs refilling. To refill, simply lift the black top. Easy to attach using the cord to a tree or window eave.

Window suet bird feeder

To refill the feeder, simply unscrew the steel part from the screw head and top up with bird treats. Easy to install using double-sided adhesive tape to the window pane.
