When light meets matter

Moss Series sheds light on the launch of its new products.

How does Moss Series create a symbiosis of light, texture and material?

ROUEN, August 2023- Moss Series, specialized in the creation of contemporary and design lighting fixtures, unveils at the Maison&Objet 2023 show its new collections of lighting fixtures, with intriguing textures and materials that transport us into a poetic universe, where the magic of light is sublimated.

The Moss Series brand presents two new collections: «Attraverso», a range of chandeliers and pendants, where light seems to pass through the material for a subtle and astonishing effect. Also, the brand's very first wall sconce collection, «Freccia», which combines nuance and refinement with its long, slender shape. Maison Moss creations are distinguished by their innovative materials, unexpected textures and designs that emphasize craftsmanship.

FRECCIA

Moss Series wall sconces emanate a subtle aesthetic that complements any interior. Composed of a vertical line projecting a soft, bewitching light, Freccia is accompanied either by a stone honed by the ages, or glassware in a black so intense you can barely make out the light nuances, or glassware with a milky appearance like clouds, or translucent glassware that lets you glimpse the ballet of light on its walls. These different textures offer an unsuspected spectacle when we think of the symbiosis created between light and matter.

ATTRAVERSO

For this new edition of Maison&Objet 2023, Moss Series also reveals a second collection of lighting fixtures, «Attraverso». This range of chandeliers and suspensions plays on a principle of accumulation, taking us on a journey through cascades of sparkling light, piercing sandy, obscure, lactescent, amber or crystalline environments. The different combinations of Attraverso, harmonize in spaces such as an office, a dining room, a living room, a bedroom.

About Moss Series™.

Moss Series, an offshoot of Maison Moss, a company that has specialized in chandelier manufacturing for 18 years, sees the light of day in 2021, following a strong demand for contemporary, designer chandeliers, lamps and floor lamps in series. It is committed to fostering a lateral and open relationship between creative direction and craftsmanship. Moss Series has gained recognition for integrating fiber optics into its lighting fixtures, giving them a fairy-tale, poetic edge. The brand has also conquered minds, combining glass and different aspects of materials, resulting in authentic, astonishing and unexpected creations that the design world considers a must-have today.

Moss Series is first and foremost a desire to share beauty through the history of its materials, but also to highlight the poetic charm that emanates from light. The demand for finish, thanks to an infrastructure calibrated to provide total control over the technique and quality of its luminaires is paramount. Today, Moss Series™ signs 5 lighting collections including chandeliers, pendant lights, lamps, floor lamps and wall sconces, as well as thirty-six sales outlets worldwide (France, Spain, Italy, USA ...).
