MAOMI x German Design Award 2023

We are very happy about our nomination this year for the German Design Award 2023! Our Wall Installation HOOKS was selected in the category "Furniture" and now has the chance to receive the award for its unique design. Besides the final design and original idea, the way of production is also considered.

The German Design Award honors innovative products and projects, their manufacturers and designers that are groundbreaking in the German and international design landscape. This is ensured by the top-class international jury. In this way, unique design trends are discovered and presented: a competition that advances the design-oriented economy.

We are already very excited about the results of the jury, which will be announced on 28.10.2022 and will of course keep you up to date!
