

Le Ville by Casalgrande Padana: precious porcelain stoneware fragments for terrazzo style

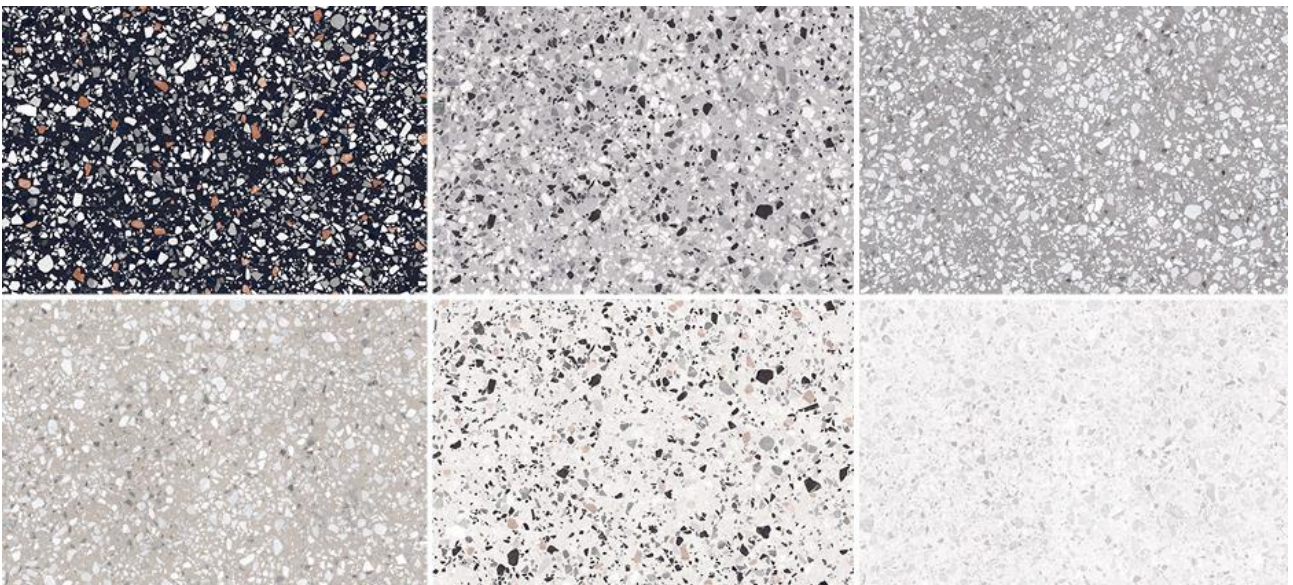

Stoneware inspired by Venetian terrazzo floors is back, giving an elegant, modern look to the new Le Ville collection by Casalgrande Padana.

“Those terrazzo floors are excellent. They are made with crushed potsherds and fine gravel, lime and river pebbles, all well beaten into position. And they must be made in spring or summer so that they can dry well”.

Casalgrande Padana’s Le Ville collection gives a modern twist to Venetian terrazzo tiles, among the most renowned and popular Italian creations throughout the centuries. The new Le Ville porcelain stoneware tile collection is available with six patterns in different colours, allowing for endless combinations. It comes in five sizes (20x20, 30x60, 60x60, 60x120, and 120x120 cm), two thicknesses (9 and 20 mm), and three finishes (natural, polished and Grip).

Barbaro, Foscari, Valmarana, Badoer, Pisani, Trissino

Irregular grits and geometries shape modern, creative combinations that form detail-rich patterns, for sophisticated, fine-quality surfaces.

Le Ville is a versatile new collection for the floors and walls of any living space, indoors or outdoors. The tiles with the anti-slip Grip finish for exteriors, in a 20 mm thickness (colours Pisani and Valmarana only), are ideal laid on screed for paving patios, terraces, verandas and balconies, or directly on grass, gravel or sand, for walkways that can be walked on right away. They can be used to create smooth, seamless indoor-to-outdoor looks.

Ideal for large surfaces such as hotel, restaurant and store floors of all kinds, the collection also brings a stylish touch of character throughout the home. Squared, rectified, and with zero warpage, the large 120x120 cm stoneware tiles in the new terrazzo-look collection can create a seamless look with minimal joints, for elegant, contemporary living spaces.
