ANNA & COCOON vases: Contemporary eye-catcher

A special highlight is the expansion of the ANNA and COCOON vase series, which are among the brand's bestsellers. The new design combines the organic silhouettes of the vases with striking black and white effects. The traditional pattern is created in an elaborate handicraft process. Here, layers of coloured porcelain are applied to the finished object and fine lines are worked into it. Firing hardens the high-quality material, and the subsequent careful fine sanding creates the special tactile experience of the textile-like surfaces. In a wintry ambience as well as independent of the season, the striking models become contemporary eye-catchers in arrangements and as soloists.
