HEART'N'SOUL

Introducing a fresh take on the classic tables from the Heart'n'Soul collection with new FENIX® nanolaminate tabletops, bringing forth a new level of style and functionality to your space.

The Heart'n'Soul collection is where form follows function, where the ordinary meets the extraordinary and where all aspects of life are celebrated. Ground your home with the Heart'n'Soul console table and dining table, designed to embrace the essence of Scandinavian living. Now, with the addition of FENIX® nanolaminate tabletops, their functionality and durability are taken to new heights.

Nanolaminate is known for its remarkable durability, with exceptional resistance to scratches, stains, and impact. Perfectly suited for homes where life is lived, the tables will retain their appearance over time. The flawless and smooth finish of the tabletop gives your space a sleek look, which will add a modern feel to your home, transforming the atmosphere.

To complement the natural beauty of the oak, we are introducing three carefully selected colours of the nanolaminates. Let cloud grey infuse your surroundings with a stylish, airy touch, while moss green brings forth tranquillity, inviting the serenity of nature into your home. For a touch of refined elegance, obsidian black is a timeless choice that will adorn your dining room.

Like the classic Heart'n'Soul pieces, the dining table is extendable and has two fabric-lined drawers at each end of the table, where you can quickly put away the mess and marks that everyday life sometimes leaves behind. The stylish and discrete console table has a fabric-lined drawer where you can keep bits and bobs as well as cutlery, napkins or important papers.

The clean outline of the Heart'n'Soul console and dining tables with nanolaminate will effortlessly complement any interior setting, both classic and contemporary. The new additions to the Heart'n'Soul collection will act as centrepieces that celebrate all the wonderful moments spent with the people you love.
