

KlassFan: A new vision of ceiling ventilation

Our brand designs and manufactures ceiling fans and air destratifiers. KlassFan, a European brand based in Valencia (Spain), is the result of the fusion of two worlds: designer lighting and air treatment. Antinomic, genetically different, KlassFan draws on these two worlds, bringing to the market highly technical and highly original product ranges.

Breaking with the codes of the European market, taking the players in these sectors by storm, KlassFan has introduced a number of innovations, such as its Modular products, which are designed to be as close as possible to the needs of the many different interior designs and technical configurations of each volume to be ventilated, such as the Modulo Regular, which is the most versatile product on the market.

The Modulo Regular offers hundreds of combinations, combining motor colours, sizes, colours, design, blade materials, finishes and lighting kits. There are many other options, making this product simply unique and exceptional.

With the environment in mind, the KlassFan ranges focus on destratification, enabling high-ceilinged spaces to be completely homogenised, thereby limiting the consumption of traditional air-conditioning or heating systems.

The characteristics of the KlassFan ranges mean that the heating or air-conditioning system is relieved of its workload, resulting in lower energy consumption and, by extension, lower CO² emissions.

All KlassFan products are fitted with thermostatic probes to regulate the temperature of the upper parts of ventilated volumes, thus creating a recirculation of air that would otherwise be naturally stored there, without being used.

KlassFan products are capable of being modular and therefore adaptable to re-use in the event of a change of configuration, re-use forming part of the means of ecology.

When you discover KlassFan, you'll find products that are ten years ahead of their time, projected into the future for future generations to learn from, simple, useful, sustainable products that protect our environment while remaining extremely efficient.

Whether you're an individual, an architect, an industry, a restaurant owner, a hotelier or a public authority, you'll find a solution to your energy-saving or ventilation needs in our ranges.

Welcome to our new world, more sustainable, more aware, but still comfortable, elegant and useful.
