

6 years since we all started to work on this model.

Its name: the HAMAKA©

A floating seat invented in the early 60s...

Edited in 2023 by airborne® and completely made in France

Here is its story:

In 1962 Jean-Paul and Roger Détrie filed the patent for the invention of a deckchair with a unique concept: the structure with a pendular system frees the body from gravity for optimal relaxation. They manufactured around two thousands Relax between 1963 and 1983 in the Basque Country. Anne-Laure Détrie Gras, the granddaughter of Roger Détrie wants to breathe new life into this innovative and authentic project. She then contacted Coralie Frick and Arnaud Le Cat, a duo of Parisian designers.

“The association with Coralie Frick and Arnaud Le Cat was the discovery of a new universe, imbued with creation, reflection and exchanges.

“Airborne opened its doors to us supporting us in the production process. Hamaka is a unique concept of individual swing, which does not exist on the market. Hamaka's success will also be dedicated to my ancestors and the people who encouraged me.”

Anne-Laure Détrie Gras

Then begins a long design work: drawing, modeling, prototyping, testing etc... How to simplify, lighten and give a new aesthetic to this very comfortable deckchair while keeping the patented pendulum system?

This process will last over 6 years... With the support of French partners of Airborne. The result is an incredible design, not leaving anyone indifferent.

Coralie Frick, born in 1983 in Liechtenstein and Arnaud Le Cat, born in 1985 in Paris, invent and design functional and refined design pieces to accompany new lifestyles, light and moving.

Object after object - under the label "You Can Sleep In The Grange" they draw the outlines of a minimalist living environment, of quality and in movement, by enrolling in a French manufacturing approach. Thus, they rigorously reinvent everyday objects to make them timeless and obvious with a refined aesthetic that follows function.

"When Anne-Laure, Coralie and Arnaud came to see us, it was obvious for us to support them in the success of this magnificent project. The result is atypical and attracts attention with discretion and elegance: everything we love. Hamaka is a very beautiful human and family story..."

We hope it will meet design lovers but also long naps, moments of daydreaming and good times with friends."
