

Feelgood Edito

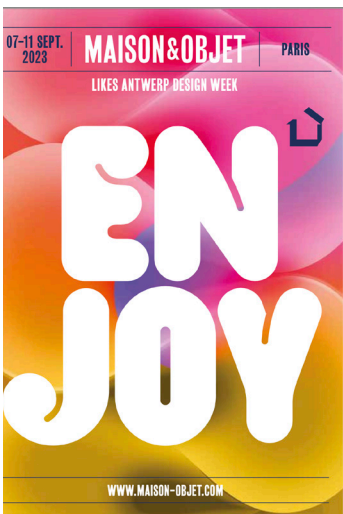

Let’s play !

“Playing with a natural material like rattan is at the root of the art of making at Feelgood Designs. Since forming in 2001 the Australian brand has developed a warm and authentic world centred around reissues of iconic chair designs in rattan, while inviting designers to express their own visions in the same spirit of timelessness.

The latest pieces from Danish designer Allan Nøddebo for Feelgood Designs are the perfect expression of the delightful harmony created by rattan, firmly anchored in its time.

The partnership has produced GORM and ALVIN, two chairs presented at the beginning of the year, which have now been joined by the ELLIOT model, as exclusively unveiled at Maison et Objet Paris, alongside the brand’s essential pieces. The tone is set: ENJOY!”

Feelgood chairs

ELLIOT

A subtle mix of contemporary Danish design and modern mid-century spirit, what sets the ELLIOT chair apart is the fluid combination of materials and textures that join forces to form a remarkably well-balanced, functional chair. Warm and welcoming, the handwoven shell contrasts with the finely formed charcoal powder coated steel frame. The curved back and the slender armrests ensure optimal comfort and invite flexible postures. In natural rattan, ELLIOT comes in polyethylene for outdoor use.

The hand-crafted shell is made from a carefully selected vegetable fibre that radiates warmth and elegance. The enveloping back ensures optimal comfort, while the powder coated steel frame infuses the floating silhouette with solidity and elegance.
