Visio

Dimore Collection 2024

Design: Nava + Arosio Studio

Three new fluorescent colours in limited edition for Visio, three bright pop tones created for the January edition of Maison&Objet for the collection of suspension, floor, table and wall lamps with clear surrealist references.

Designed by the young designer duo Nava + Arosio, Visio comes in many different possible configurations of facial geometries, an ode to the iconographic apparatus and expressiveness of the face.

The tubular metal painted in energetic tones of fuchsia, yellow or orange is curved to generate a face in its entirety or compositions of mouths, noses, ears and eyes, whether in the form of pendant lamps, floor lamps or wall compositions; mixing mysticism and geometry, unpredictable variations on the theme of imagination.

An aesthetic vocabulary, that of Visio, in which the extreme attention to detail, the light that engraves faces and moulds the volumes of environments, reveals the new while remaining faithful to Masiero's DNA, a heritage of skilled workmanship and attention to detail.

Structure: polished painted metal tubular with fuchsia, yellow and orange finish
