

BROSTE COPENHAGEN

PRESS RELEASE JANUARY 2024

It's the little things that count

Too often we focus on the big changes, whenever we want to redecorate, if we are moving to a new house, or when we are turning an old summer house into the holiday house of our dreams. But here at Broste Copenhagen we know that more often than not, a little goes a long way.

At Broste Copenhagen the most important feature is never how a room looks but how it feels. Not big fans of huge makeovers, we encourage small, considered steps when building a unique home. Very often it is not the huge alterations but the small details, that make a room feel personable, a kitchen feel inspiring and a bedroom soothing.

This is why we've been eager to launch a whole array of small furniture, decorative organizers, quirky accessories, and delicate candle holders to add finish and finesse to your personal spaces.

Whether you are looking for new ways to store laundry, blankets or toys the Pallas Basket will be your go-to. The cute Brook Table will serve as your perfect side table, while the Berit Dining Table fits into even the smallest eating areas due to its light frame. Mundo and Siri Pouf will serve as charming seats or comfortable footrests. Discover all of our new additions - and fall in love with your home all over again.
