Busts ELEONORE VON ARAGON and UOMO MISTERIOSO

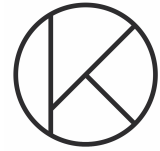

The merciless ruler and the mysterious man: with two new objects, the Klatt Objects brand is expanding its range of busts in an exciting way. In contrast to the previous hand-carved wooden busts, the models for these heads are created using a state-of-the-art 3D scanning and printing process that is used by major exhibition centres and others. Deceptively real copies of the historical or museum originals are produced, for example for loans. In the joint pilot project with Klatt Objects, Italian artist Massimo Di Pirro used the two busts from his studio as models for the porcelain objects, which are then moulded and handcrafted in the traditional way.
