

ADJ.STYLE Unveils Innovative Acoustic Panels at Maison&Objet 2025

Paris, January 16–20, 2025 – ADJ.STYLE, the international brand founded by Ekaterina Borovkova, is proud to introduce its next-generation acoustic panels at Maison&Objet 2025. This groundbreaking innovation marks a new milestone in technical design, providing advanced acoustic solutions for residential spaces, public venues, and specialized environments such as aviation and yachting.

Participation in Maison&Objet 2025 offers ADJ.STYLE a unique platform to showcase its vision to industry experts and international partners, underscoring the brand's commitment to innovation and excellence.

Revolutionizing Acoustic Control

The new acoustic panels are specifically designed to meet the demanding challenges of environments such as yacht interiors and jet cabins. Key features include:

- Superior Acoustic Performance: The panels absorb sound across a wide frequency range (low frequencies up to 0.5, mid frequencies up to 0.85, and high frequencies up to 1.0), reducing reverberation and enhancing speech clarity.
- Vibration Resistance: The Click-lock mounting system ensures easy installation, removal, and repositioning, making the panels ideal for dynamic settings.
- Durability in Extreme Conditions: A sandwich structure and technical leather coating provide resistance to stains, humidity, UV rays, and mechanical damage, all while maintaining aesthetic appeal.
- Fire-resistant: The panels are designed to be fire-resistant, ensuring they maintain their safety and durability in both public and private spaces.

The Distinctive Value of ADJ.STYLE

Under the leadership of Ekaterina Borovkova, a highly accomplished engineer, ADJ.STYLE has earned a reputation for blending refined design with technical excellence. The brand offers customized solutions for private residences, HoReCa spaces, offices, yachts, and jets. Known for delivering a unique synesthetic experience, ADJ.STYLE engages the senses of sight, touch, and smell with its creations.

ADJ.STYLE at Maison&Objet 2025

The new acoustic panels will be on display at Booth B60 in Hall 6. Maison&Objet serves as the ideal stage for ADJ.STYLE to share its groundbreaking vision with industry professionals and partners, redefining the concept of technical furnishings.