

Feelgood Designs: Rattan in the spotlight at the Maison & Objet

Feelgood Designs, the leading brand in rattan seating, will be at the MAISON & OBJET trade fair and will unveil an overview of its collections composed of iconic pieces and new creations. Combining soft shapes, timeless lines and warm hues, the Feelgood Designs collections perfectly meet the residential, hotel and restaurant market's craze for natural materials, a guarantee of meaning and emotion. Feelgood Designs strives to create authentic and welcoming atmospheres, whether indoors or outdoors, where comfort and conviviality are at the heart of the experience.

Feelgood Designs: craftsmanship at the service of sustainability

Feelgood Designs' success is based on its commitment to offering pieces that combine tradition and innovation. Its expertise in working with rattan by hand is evidence of unique craftsmanship, allowing it to produce pieces of impeccable quality. Feelgood Designs chairs, armchairs and stools have been designed by designers attentive to the notions of ergonomics and durability. Designed to withstand intensive use, all models meet the strict requirements of places welcoming the public. The seat must be easy to handle, robust and light at the same time and, if possible, stackable. In addition, the majority of seats are available in indoor and outdoor versions, offering visual harmony between the different reception areas, which are increasingly open to the outdoors.

The Feelgood Designs collections have been distributed in Europe since 2013 by the company Marta; exclusive importer of the brand.
