 the italian sofa bed

Rufus, design Christophe Pillet Sofa bed

The sofa bed Rufus, with minimal, harmonious lines and generous proportions, stands out for its low frame, almost touching the floor, an innovative feature for convertible sofas.

Even with this particularity, the sofa, thanks to careful research and development work conducted by the company together with the designer, easily transforms into a spacious bed, with a practical and silent mechanism that allows you to extract a thin but highly comfortable mattress, 200 cm long.

Sober and elegant, the sofa is also defined by a deep seat with a single welcoming cushion that invites you to relax.

Rufus therefore combines elegance and comfort without sacrificing functionality, a common thread of all the proposals by Milano Bedding.

The model is available in a linear sofa or with a chaise longue and can be covered with numerous fabrics and leathers.

Rufus has a completely removable cover and is also available without the bed mechanism.
