CandleHand Unveils Innovative 3D Taper Candles

CandleHand, the visionary concept candle maker renowned for its life-sized hand gesture candles, is thrilled to announce the launch of its groundbreaking new 3D Taper Candle Collection. This innovative line reimagines the classic taper candle, infusing it with playful design and enhanced appeal.

"We've always wanted to shake things up with the classic taper candle, making it more than just a light source – we wanted it to carry a truly meaningful and memorable message," says the CandleHand team. "And let me tell you, we're super proud to be handcrafting each and every one of these candles, right from the mold to the finished product!"

Now, you have a 3D taper candle for whatever you need to express, adding a unique dimension to your décor or message.

Every CandleHand product, including these new 3D taper candles, is meticulously handmade from start to finish in Lithuania. The CandleHand team takes immense pride in producing all their distinctive creations right here in Europe.
