Originalhome unveils the Ocean Bloom collection for AW2526

Featuring coastal plastic lamps and vegan candles

Originalhome is proud to present the Ocean Bloom capsule, part of its AW2526 collection. The new line will debut at the upcoming edition of Maison & Objet, the global interior design trade show, held from 4 to 8 September 2025 in Paris. Inspired by the vivid tones of the underwater world, this capsule blends refreshing design with sustainability. It offers a vibrant selection of lamps made from coastal plastic waste, plant-based vegan candles, and home textiles crafted from recycled cotton. The collection speaks to today's growing desire for nature-connected living and reflects Originalhome's deep-rooted commitment to sustainability.

OCEAN BLOOM: AN UNDERWATER-INSPIRED TREND SHAPING AW2526

Ocean Bloom is a coastal-inspired interior trend defined by vibrant hues of sea green, turquoise, yellow-green, soft neutrals, and sea foam. This palette echoes the mesmerizing colors of the ocean, shoreline stones, and marine life, bringing freshness and energy into any space. Ocean Bloom is closely aligned with leading interior trends for 2025, including nature-inspired, textural, and wellness-centered design. It is easy to translate into the home through color, form, and material—offering a true sensory journey that evokes serenity and connection. Aesthetically uplifting and rooted in emotional wellbeing, it is perfectly in tune with Originalhome's DNA: good for the planet, and for the people.

NEW COLLECTION AW25/26

From lampshades made out of recycled plastic to vegan candles and homelinen made from waste cotton, the new collection embrace the shades and shapes of the refreshing Ocean Bloom.

SAVING THE OCEAN FROM PLASTIC WASTE

Originalhome's recycled lamps perfectly embody the Ocean Bloom spirit. Each lampshade is handcrafted from coastal plastic waste collected in Indonesia. Through a local clean-up project, residents are incentivized to remove plastic from coastal areas. The recovered plastic is processed into durable strings using low-tech machinery, allowing small-scale entrepreneurs to participate in the production. These strings are then handwoven by artisans in Java, using traditional methods. The result: a small lamp with a big impact, helping to prevent plastic pollution from entering the ocean.

STAY CONNECTED TO NATURE: VEGAN CANDLES THAT PLANT TREES

Beyond their soothing glow and ocean-toned colors, Originalhome's candles are made with sustainability at heart. They are hand-poured from plant-based, paraffin-free wax by women in rural Indonesia, supporting fair trade and empowering local communities. And the impact goes further: for every candle sold, Originalhome plants a tree in Africa through its partnership with the Trees for the Future Foundation. This initiative restores degraded land, improves soil health, and enhances food security for farmers. Every purchase helps create a healthier planet: perfectly aligned with today's demand for meaningful, eco-conscious interiors.

About originalhome

Originalhome offers sustainable & ethical home decoration and eco-design and earth-friendly (waste) materials with social trade.
