FINE LITTLE DAY

Fine Little Day presents FW25

This autumn is all about the feeling of coming home. It's not about keys or walls — it's that quiet shift in your chest. The exhale. The drop of your shoulders. At Fine Little Day, we design with that feeling in mind. Home not as a showroom, but as a living space — imperfect, loved, real. Since 2007, Fine Little Day has been about sharing the work of creators and artists — through social media, exhibitions, and the pieces we bring to life. In 2025, we're keeping that spirit alive with inspiring new collaborations and in-house designs that add warmth and character to your walls, tables, and every corner in between.

We're proud to present new works from Freja Erixån, Lisen Adbåde and Tyra von Zweigbergk alongside beautiful pieces by our founder and designer Elisabeth Dunker. We're also revisiting timeless classics from the Fine Little Day archive — beloved motifs by Elisabeth Dunker like Water Lilies, Spisen (from our 2017 collaboration with Hemslöjden i Skåne), and the iconic birch pattern return to remind us that home is built layer by layer, memory by memory. It's shaping up to be a heartfelt, welcoming season.

SPIS

The stove is more than function – it's where stories simmer and hands stay busy. Rooted in tradition and reimagined through design, it warms the present and honors the past. A steady symbol of warmth, gathering, and care. In our collaboration with the Handicraft association in Skåne from 2017, the stove became both motif and memory. Now, it returns as a wall hanging in two sizes, a tray, and a serving board, designed by Elisabeth Dunker.

HÖGTID COLLECTION

For this year's fall/winter season, we're welcoming the celebrations with our Högtid collection – a festive mix of tradition, color, and craft. New arrivals include Kurbits cup designed by Elisabeth Dunker (cup by Kajsa Cramer), and matching ornaments, rich in folklore attitude and full of charm. Garlands to hang with joy, and warm textiles – tablecloths and napkins, to gather around. It's a collection made for togetherness. For small rituals, candlelight dinners, and the quiet magic of winter days. A little playful. A little rooted in memories. All Fine Little Day.

FiNE LiTTLE DAY

WATER LILIES

The pattern with lily pads, designed by Elisabeth Dunker, is a Fine Little Day classic. Now it unfolds in a new form — a generous, warm wool blanket. The pattern drifts softly across the wool like water lilies on still water. Generous size: 130×220 cm, in two colorways.

BJÖRK

The birch tree holds a special place in our hearts. It is a symbol of resilience, renewal, and natural beauty — qualities that inspire much of our creative work. This fall, we bring the birch home with a small, thoughtful collection: a warm wool blanket designed by Elisabeth Dunker and three new cushion covers — Birch, delicately embroidered; Näver, textured like bark; and Weeping birch designed by Lisen Adbåge, inspired by soft, sweeping branches. Each piece is a tribute to this quietly iconic tree.
