

New HOME Collection Autumn/Winter 2026 & Catalogue Launch
Tranquillo presents its new HOME Collection for Autumn/Winter 2026

Tranquillo is delighted to present its new HOME Collection for Autumn/Winter 2026. Inspired by warm colours, natural materials and thoughtful details, the collection invites you to transform your home into a stylish oasis of well-being.

To coincide with the launch, the new catalogue is now available, showcasing the full range of the collection and inviting you to explore it. From selected home accessories to special favourite pieces, the collection combines design, quality and a conscious lifestyle.

The new items are not yet available in shops but will be presented for the first time at Maison&Objet Paris from 10 to 14 September 2026. There, Tranquillo will offer exclusive insights into the collection and looks forward to engaging with visitors in person.

“With our new HOME collection, we aim to create a home that radiates warmth, comfort and individuality,” says Tranquillo. “We are delighted to be able to present these special pieces for the first time.”

Tranquillo is synonymous with colourful design, responsible production and products with personality. For over 20 years, we have been working closely and long-term with our partner companies and are committed to using sustainable materials. With great attention to detail, we create collections that combine a zest for life, quality and environmental awareness – consciously produced and made for a colourful everyday life.
