The French Tropical Touch !

For the very first time, Parfums des Îles will be taking part in the Maison & Objet trade show. A unique opportunity to introduce the Parisian public to the art of island perfumery — born in Martinique and shaped by nearly 30 years of artisanal and ethical expertise.

A Maison Inspired by Caribbean Nature

Founded in 1996 in Sainte-Luce, Parfums des Îles designs and manufactures its creations in its Martinique ateliers, following the standards of fine artisanal perfumery.

Today, the brand offers more than 250 references: perfumes, natural skincare, botanical oils, soaps, and bespoke creations.

It draws its inspiration from Caribbean cosmétopée — the art of care and fragrance through local plants — to imagine refined compositions that blend French savoir-faire with island sensitivity, the signature of the French Tropical Touch.

With 25 sustainable local jobs, the Maison embraces a responsible model inspired by the nature and richness of the French West Indies.

The Vanilles Créoles in the spotlight

For Maison & Objet, the brand will showcase its iconic collection, Les Vanilles Créoles, reissued in 2025. Six exceptional fragrances — Vanille Patchouli, Vanille des Îles, Vanille Bourbon, Vanille Tiaré, Vanille Poudrée, and Vanille Coco Latté — exploring every facet of vanilla, from floral to woody to gourmand, available in eaux de toilette, oils, and artisanal soaps.
