THE SILENT ART OF INTARSIA

In the measured rhythm of intertwined threads, a form of art comes to life — one that hides more than it reveals, and that only the most discerning eyes and hands can truly grasp: intarsia.

For 80 years, Masserano Cashmere has combined the preciousness of the finest fibers with the expertise of its artisanal workshops.

Every creation is the result of knowledge preserved and continuously renewed: designs that take shape on the looms before being refined by hand, in a natural dialogue between innovation and heritage.

Textile inlays express a language that belongs to the home and to those who inhabit it: signs of intimacy, whispered decorations, geometries of emotion.

Thus, every throw, every cushion, every garment becomes a page to be touched, a journey to embark on, a geography of softness in which to lose and find oneself.

Within Masserano's cashmere, harmony takes shape.

And intarsia becomes a silent presence, a trace of contemporary taste for living.

In 2026 Masserano Cashmere is celebrating the 80th Anniversary
