Passionate about creativity in all its forms, Jérémy Bergeaud has explored numerous sectors throughout his career, combining industry, craftsmanship, and architecture.

His creative universe is fueled by artistic experimentation with a wide variety of materials, in a process of understanding and transformation. This approach aims to create more authentic, ethical, and environmentally friendly creations. Inspired by travel, discovery, and the culture of construction, Jérémy designs each object as a form of poetry, somewhere between frugality and fantasy.

The H Chair, designed by Jérémy Bergeaud, perfectly embodies the Airborne spirit. Lightweight, stackable, and versatile (indoor and outdoor), it continues the AA tradition by adopting an evolutionary approach: its upholstery is interchangeable, allowing its appearance and use to be adapted to suit individual needs. Its sleek silhouette is both familiar and instantly recognizable: its understated yet bold design gives it an identity. To describe its comfort, we could evoke that of the legendary screenwriter's chairs, true furniture icons whose seats have been tested... but the best thing is to try them out.

H joins the Airborne in 2026 catalog and will be available for sale to resellers, individuals, and professionals, as well as for rental for events.
