SENINI STONE presents the exclusive natural marble product in a large tumbled format.

PRESS RELEASE

Large Format Tumbled Marble: The Contemporary Twist on Heritage Luxury in the New 60x60 cm Format by SENINI STONE The Italian company celebrates over thirty years of excellence in natural stone by introducing a monumental and contemporary dimension to its iconic collection of tumbled marbles, combining a soft texture and spatial continuity between indoors and outdoors.

Montichiari (Brescia), Italy – May 2026

In the landscape of contemporary architecture and high-end interior design, the search for material authenticity increasingly marries the clean lines of minimalist design. In response to this aesthetic evolution, SENINI STONE – an international benchmark in premium stone processing – officially announces the launch of the new 60x60 cm (24"x24") contemporary large format with a 2 cm thickness for its celebrated Tumbled Antique Marble collection.

This novelty represents a perfect balance between the charm of heritage and modern geometric codes. The collection features tiles made of 100% natural Italian marble, mechanically aged through an innovative tumbling process that rounds the edges and softens the surface. The result is a material with a unique personality, revealing a softly irregular edge and a lived-in, matte patina.

Where the "Old World" Soul Meets Spatial Minimalism While smaller formats evoke the tradition of ancient estates and historic farmhouses, the 60x60 cm macro format introduces a sense of spaciousness, monumentality, and visual continuity. Each batch showcases the natural color variations and intrinsic veining of authentic stone, making this format the ideal ally for the most exclusive international design trends, such as Modern Farmhouse, Coastal living, and prestigious historic restorations.

Technical Performance for Seamless Indoor-Outdoor Continuity Beyond its undeniable aesthetic value, the 60x60 cm tumbled marble offers outstanding structural performance. Thanks to the smoothed surface achieved through tumbling, it is the ideal premium solution for designing fluid indoor-to-outdoor environments: from grand residential living rooms and commercial boutiques to patios, alfresco areas, spas, and prestigious infinity pool decks.

The selection includes the most iconic Italian marbles and travertines quarried directly from the region, starting from the famous and historically resistant Botticino, up to Biancone, Carrara, and selected Italian travertines. Upon request, SENINI STONE also manufactures custom sizes, bespoke cuts, and coordinated special pieces to meet the tailored requirements of the most demanding designers.

About SENINI STONE Founded over 30 years ago, SENINI STONE is a leading Italian family company specialized in the production of tumbled marble, antique stones, and high-end custom stone processing. Combining deep artisanal know-how with solid industrial production capacity, the company exports the authentic value of 100% Made in Italy worldwide, offering stable, traceable, and design-oriented solutions for luxury residential projects and large-scale commercial supplies.
