Paris Design Week 2026

Dialogues in Motion

For Paris Design Week 2026, Rinck opens the doors of its Parisian gallery to present a curated selection of pieces from its contemporary collections, re-editions, and heritage archives. Echoing this year's theme, Pulse in Motion, the Maison has conceived a scenography as a living dialogue between eras, materials, and savoir-faire: a continuous movement between heritage and creation.

Rooted in the French art de vivre, Rinck has brought together, since 1841, an interior architecture and design studio with its own manufacturing workshops, specialising in fine craftsmanship, furniture, bespoke interiors, and architectural woodwork. This rare alliance between design and execution informs a distinctive approach, founded on the mastery of classical repertoires and their contemporary reinterpretation — a creative classicism serving exceptional interiors and collectible pieces.

At Galerie Rinck, furniture becomes at once an object of use, a manifesto of craftsmanship, and a space for experimentation. From the Art Deco lines of the Félicité collection to the marine inspirations of Nereus, from collaborations exploring textile arts to re-editions drawn from the Maison's archives, each piece tells a story of memory set in motion in the present.

For this new edition of Paris Design Week, Rinck offers a sensitive journey through its collectible design universe, where forms, gestures, and materials resonate within the same creative pulse
